

UNDERGRADUATE RESIDENCY RECLASSIFICATION

Read on to learn about residency requirements, deadlines, and everything you need to know about residency for tuition purposes for undergraduate students here at the U.

UNDERGRADUATE

The Undergraduate One Year Rule Policy applies to most students looking to reclassify their residency status at the University of Utah, and it is the most common policy undergraduate students use to reclassify as a resident for tuition purposes, after completing a minimum of 12 months in Utah.

THE FOLLOWING REQUIREMENTS MUST BE MET:

- 1 Residency Reclassification Application
- 2 Utah Domiciliary Ties: Utah driver's license, Utah voter registration, Utah vehicle registration (if the student owns a vehicle)

ONE YEAR RULE

- 3 Independent on Federal Taxes for most recent tax year (under 24 years and not married)
- 4 Proof of 12 months of continuous physical presence with no more than 29 days, either proven outside of Utah, or with no proof of physical presence, combined.

ADDITIONAL RESIDENCY POLICIES FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS*

In addition to the Undergraduate One Year Rule, there are additional residency reclassification policies a student may qualify for:

- Tax Dependent Student of Utah Resident Parents
- Marriage to a Utah Resident Spouse
- Move to Utah for Full Time Employment
- A Utah Resident who has been away for:
 - School
 - Ecclesiastical Service
 - Government Volunteer Service
 - Temporary Employment
- Extenuating Circumstances requiring relocation to Utah

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT ALL OF THESE RESIDENCY RECLASSIFICATION POLICIES, PLEASE VISIT OUR WEBSITE FOR FULL DETAILS:

*Please note that incoming graduate students may apply under an undergraduate policy if they qualify prior to the start of their graduate courses.
